Attention:- Corangamite Shire Council electoral structure review.

In regards to the review of the Corangamite Shire Council electoral structure, the Derrinallum Progress Association would like to submit their support for the Sub-divided single councillor-wards structure.

We have found that this has given us the best representation for our local area, as we have received great support from the local councillors who are familiar to the area and have the locals' best interests at heart.

Given the size of the council area we do not believe that people from outside the local area will have sufficient working knowledge of our concerns, and that their availability would be impacted by the distances to be travelled, if they were not local.
