

Electoral structure review - Moorabool Shire Council - Response Submission

I support the proposed model number 2. I live out in the very west of the shire, and out here we already get mostly ignored by council and councillors. I believe having an unsubdivided model would just make that situation worse and the current model of only having one councillor in the ward has been no good either as they don't even have to do anything to stay elected - the current councillor has been uncontested in all but 1 election in around 20 years. I would prefer to have more than 1 councillor represent my area, but not in an unsubdivided model. So I would have a strong preference for model 2.
